Microgrid information session

The Central Victorian Greenhouse Alliance (CVGA) is partnering with the Centre for New Energy Technologies (C4NET), Powercor, Ovida and Loddon and Buloke Shire Councils on the Donald and Tarnagulla Microgrid Project.

The project, which will run for around three years, is looking to engage the Donald and Tarnagulla communities to listen and understand their needs and desires around their future electricity supply.

According to the CVGA, communities are becoming increasingly aware of alternative energy supplies to enhance their existing supply or explore alternative supply options, such as microgrids. Several community groups across the Loddon-Mallee area have sought to investigate whether microgrids are a better energy solution for their electricity needs.

Congratulations Ivan

I'd like to congratulate Ivan Streader who was recently honoured by the Boort Memorial Hall community asset committee for his dedicated contributions as a long-term member.

Boort Memorial Hall community asset committee President Ian Potter presented Ivan with a framed certificate and book, and gave a speech in recognition of all the work Ivan has contributed to the hall.

The Boort Memorial Hall committee was formed in 1990. Ivan was involved with this committee after previously maintaining the hall before the committee's official formation.

Ivan's building construction background was a huge benefit to the Boort Memorial Hall as well as many other buildings around town. He has always been a champion for the hall, making sure it was in good condition and ready for use – demonstrating Ivan's dedication to his local community.

The local historical society is currently interviewing Ivan about the work he has completed in the Boort area with the local halls.

MAYORAL COLUMN

8 March 2021

Be vigilant against fruit fly

Following a community member's report of fruit fly having been located in Bridgewater, I'd just like to remind residents to ensure you remain vigilant against fruit fly.

The Queensland fruit fly (QFF) is a serious pest for both home gardeners and commercial growers. QFF attacks a wide range of fruits and fruiting vegetables. One female QFF can lay up to 100 eggs per day.

Because they provide food and shelter, home gardens are an ideal place for QFF, particularly those with a range of different fruit and vegetable varieties which ripen all year round, enabling QFF to rapidly increase in numbers.

When controlling QFF, prevention is the best option. According to Agriculture Victoria, to reduce the risk of attracting QFF to your garden make sure you:

Pick and use fruit or vegetables as they ripen, or harvest the produce early if it will ripen after it's picked.

Reduce the size of your trees so they don't produce more fruit than you need.

Remove any unwanted or neglected host trees and replace them with early-maturing host plants or non-host alternative plants such as local wattles or grevilleas.

Collect and destroy any rotting or unwanted host produce, whether it's on the ground or on the plant.

Don't put untreated produce in your compost or worm farm, or directly into your rubbish. Rather, to stop the life cycle of QFF and prevent spread to other areas:

microwave unwanted fruit or vegetables to kill any maggots, place the produce in a plastic bag, seal the bag and either leave it in the sun for five to seven days or place it in a freezer for two days.

You can then put the bagged, treated fruit or vegetables in your rubbish bin.

For more information about how you can protect your garden from QFF, visit the Agriculture Victoria website at <https://bit.ly/3rdd2vo>

BOORT WALKING GROUP

Meets Every Tuesday at Nolen's Park fitness equipment area.

Walking is at your own pace and there is no expectation to walk the full lap of the lake. Some complete a short walk and rest along the way and others choose to walk the full lap of the lake, at the end we all meet up for a coffee and chat.

Our first walk on 23rd March had 5 people, which was a good turn out for the first one considering it had been raining earlier in the morning.

A good time was had walking and talking and we enjoyed a cuppa afterwards as well as a look at the gym at BRIC.

We are keen for next week! See you then!

Kirkland Lake Gold invests in Loddon Campaspe youth

A new project led by the North Central LLEN will take a collaborative approach to reducing youth unemployment in the Loddon Campaspe region over the next three years.

Funded through the Kirkland Lake Gold Community Partnership Program the Youth Pathways Facilitator project will address the problems young people face entering the labour market after leaving school, particularly in a post Covid-19 environment.

A partnership between the North Central (project lead), Goldfields, Central Ranges, and Campaspe Cohuna LLENs, the project will work across the Loddon Campaspe region to bring together people and resources to effectively address the significant challenges faced by some young people transitioning from school to work in our local economies.

North Central LLEN Executive Officer Jane Hosking said that youth unemployment is high in our region and has been impacted further by COVID-19.

“We have employers in the region who say they have entry level work and want young people, but young people say they don’t know how to find it, that the process to find work is complex, and the support system difficult to navigate. This project will help address that.”

“Over the next three years the LLEN’s across Loddon Campaspe will be looking to tailor services and programs to support the young people using our experience as partnership brokers, and our expertise in engaging young people, industry and community organisations,” she said.

“As a small charity, this type of project is only possible with the investment from Kirkland Lake Gold which will enable us to better achieve our vision of creating opportunities for young people to thrive in education, work and life,” said Ms Hosking.

Historic Inglewood to celebrate Mary Quant exhibition

FURTHER INFORMATION: (03) 5494 1200

The historic town of Inglewood will further showcase its vintage antique and collectable stores in celebration of the Mary Quant: Fashion Revolutionary exhibition at the Bendigo Art Gallery this month.

The exhibition, which will run from 20 March to 11 July, focuses on iconic British fashion designer Dame Mary Quant. Bendigo is the exclusive Australian venue for this exhibition from London’s Victoria and Albert Museum.

As part of Bendigo Regional Tourism, Inglewood businesses will link in with the exhibition – including displays in its vintage antique and collectable shops, connecting the town with the event. The town will also host a focus month of Mary Quant displays in April.

Inglewood Emporium owner Denise Gartside said the Mary Quant-themed displays would greatly complement the town.

“It is really exciting for Inglewood to be under the Bendigo Regional Tourism banner,” she said.

“Our town is very authentic, so the 1960s Mary Quant theme throughout our stores will add to a wonderful vintage vibe.

“Most of the windows of the shops in town will be very attractive with the colours and clothes of the era.

“The Empire State Hotel will also be joining in with either a Mary Quant-themed cocktail or dessert. I’ll also be doing a 1960’s display on the hotel’s wall.”

The Inglewood Emporium will also be highlighting the Mary Quant exhibition, with Mrs Gartside planning two window displays.

“One will be a Mary Quant theme with original clothes from that era. I have sourced 1960’s clothes for the display.

“The second window will feature pop culture from 1960’s UK when Mary Quant was big – including my Dad’s stereogram.

“I actually remember when my Dad bought it brand new. So I will be putting that in the display and have music playing from that era.”

Mrs Gartside said the town was encouraging people visiting the exhibition to take the opportunity to come to Inglewood and explore its Mary-Quant-themed shops.

“Inglewood is only half an hour from Bendigo so people can spend the day and browse the shops, and the 60’s vibe, enjoy a day out and a great meal at the Empire State Hotel.”

Mrs Gartside, who has been involved in sourcing and selling clothes for over 30 years, particularly vintage clothes, said she has seen a growing interest in clothes from the 1960s.

“Our vintage and gift stores all have something different to offer many age groups – including the young avid vintage collectors of Australian-made vintage designs,” she added.

Bendigo Art Gallery Marketing and Audience Engagement Officer Mark Orlandi said it was great to see businesses in the town getting behind the exhibition.

“It’s really exciting to see the shops and businesses in Inglewood linking in and getting behind the Mary Quant exhibition – especially the town’s vintage, antique and collectable stores,” he said.

“It’s fabulous to be able to collaborate with Inglewood on the Mary Quant exhibition, and we hope it will further bring extended overnight stays to Bendigo and the wider region.”

Calling all Loddon Valley artists!

FURTHER INFORMATION:
(03) 5494 1200

Local artists, makers, creators and local businesses who operate or live in the Loddon Shire are encouraged to be part of an Arts Trail this coming spring.

To be held from 23 to 24 October, the Loddon Valley Arts Trail will be created by artists for artists and is open to both professional and amateur artists.

The Arts Trail is a joint project between Arts of Olde in Bridgewater on Loddon and Loddon Shire Council.

Bridgewater on Loddon artist Ainsley McPherson, who owns the Arts of Olde art gallery and gift shop, said the idea for the Arts Trail initially came via Bendigo.

“Bendigo was having an arts trail, and a couple of us here in the Loddon Shire enquired as to whether we could be part of that trail,” Mrs McPherson explained.

“Unfortunately, because we didn’t live in the City of Greater Bendigo, we were unable to take part in the arts trail.

“So we thought – ‘why not do our own arts trail? There are plenty of artists around here’.

“We put the idea to Council’s tourism staff Robyn Vella and Shelby Hutchinson, and they said “why not?”

“The Arts Trail is also a way of encouraging tourists to our Loddon Shire that are into art.”

Mrs McPherson said there had already been plenty of interest in the arts trail.

“There seems to be quite a lot of interest so far. I can think of eight people to start with and that’s just people I know,” she said.

“However, as I’ve only been here for two and a half years, there would be a lot more artists around than just those I know.

“I think there’s a lot of artists around – they can be hard to find,” Mrs McPherson added.

“But we’re encouraging these artists to come forward and be part of the Loddon Valley Arts Trail and showcase their work.”

Mrs McPherson emphasised that the Loddon Valley Arts Trail was open to all local artists, makers, creators and local businesses.

“For example, of the artists and makers I know there are a couple of painters, a photographer who also has an open garden, a sewer who makes cloth from Aboriginal patterns, as well as Aboriginal artists.

“I’m fairly new to the area so there are people I’ve met who have come into the shop who would also be more than welcome to be part of the arts trail, for example rustic items that they hand make.

“We also know that there’s a few places around the Loddon Shire that are makers and producers of food – that’s an art in itself.”

Mrs McPherson said people might also be interested in displaying someone else’s work for the arts trail.

“An artist, creator or maker might not have enough space to showcase their works, but someone else might have adequate studio space to do so. For example, the Tarnagulla Tea Shop has been displaying art in their studio space.

“It could be a two-fold thing for the Arts Trail – food and displaying of works.”

Once artists and locations have registered for the Loddon Valley Arts Trail, a “mud map” of locations would be produced.

“This will provide information as to where the work of all our artists, makers and creators can be found, which will let visitors do their own outings – and book accommodation for the weekend,” Mrs McPherson said.

If you would like to be involved in the Loddon Valley Arts Trail please complete an Expression of Interest form at www.bendigoregion.com.au/visit-loddon-valley/node/5130

Have your say – complete The Loddon Project survey

Council is seeking community feedback on priority actions for the next four years. Every four years Council develops a Council Plan containing planned actions and key performance indicators.

Council will be conducting a number of engagement exercises with the community to seek input on those proposed actions and indicators.

One way to provide input is to complete a survey in either the Loddon Bulletin circulated to households this week, or the same survey online at <https://www.loddon.vic.gov.au/Our-Council/Community-Engagement/The-Loddon-Project>.

The Boort Resource and Information Centre recently had the pleasure of delivering bunch of flowers to each resident and short stay patient at Boort District Health . The personalised card on each bunch was to share with the residents and patients, that they are all in the community's thoughts and that we think they are a wonderful part of the community.

We are also very grateful for the generosity of Gladfield Cut Flowers on the Loddon Valley Highway Gladfield, for donating all the flowers after they heard about the idea.

Boort Self Defence Group

On March 16 the Boort Self Defence Group had our first grading for some time. Many of our students moved up a Belt a job well done after a tough 12 Months for us all. Acacia Vernon became only the second member of the fairer sex to reach the rank of Red Belt. This means Acacia is in striking distance of a coveted Black Belt. All things being equal we are hoping she will grade in December. Everyone at the BSDG gets great satisfaction and enjoyment seeing one of students having the determination to see the program through.

CONGRATULATIONS

Croquet News

Over the weekend of 13th and 14th March, Boort Lakeside Croquet Club conducted a very successful Golf Croquet tournament. 60 Participants from 20 different clubs all over Victoria played over the two days. Saturday was warm and humid with the change coming in time for the finals to be played in the rain. Sunday was much cooler with the wind keeping conditions pleasant.

Six croquet courts were needed for the singles and we thank the Bowls Club and Tennis Club for sharing their facilities with us so we could set up temporary courts. It was amazing on Saturday to look out from in front of the Bowls Clubhouse and see croquet, tennis and bowls all being played at once.

All the visitors were very impressed with our town and its facilities and the cooperation between all the clubs. It was a great team effort but special thanks to tournament manager Ian Potter, and Julie Puttick and the catering team for a job well done.

Boort Swimming Club End of Season Wrap Up

The Boort Swimming Club celebrated the end of the swimming season with our annual Badge Night and Presentation.

Adrian Grogan was awarded with Life Membership of the Boort Swimming Club in recognition of his dedication to the club. Adrian has volunteered his time for the past 14 seasons assisting with swimming lessons, sometimes up to 4 nights per week! He has been a member of the committee for many years and was heavily involved in organising and running District Swimming Carnivals. Adrian enjoys working with the older children, assisting them in improving their technique and performance. He is always encouraging our swimmers to attend different competitive carnivals and supports them along the way. Most recently Adrian identified a need for adult swimming lessons and has commenced providing these this season.

This season we have had 60 children attending swimming lessons on a Wednesday and Thursday Night. It has been fantastic to see the enthusiasm and improvement each of them has made. The Boort Swimming Club has introduced 2 new swimming programs; a session for kinder/prep aged children with 7 participants throughout 2020-2021 and most recently an adult's swim class which we intend to expand further next season.

We are extremely thankful and appreciative to all our swimming teachers who volunteered their time and knowledge to ensure the swimming program could continue to operate, without them it would not be possible to offer this wonderful program to the children of Boort. A huge thankyou to Adrian Grogan, Roxy Aldrich, Karen Haw, Ella Lanyon, Hannah Streader, April Griffiths, Courtney McOrist, Liam O'Neil and Hannah Hogan.

This year we have also introduced an important program with our assistants. Some of our teenage swimmers have ably assisted our teachers, making the group sizes far more manageable, whilst learning some valuable skills along the way. Thank you to Phoebe Malone, Carissa Haw, Tayla Gooding, Alice Lanyon, Milly Scott, Anna Lanyon, Eliana Haw, Emma Malone and Macey Grogan.

Our annual Badge Night was very successful with many swimmers attending on the night and challenging themselves to swim as far as possible. All of our swimmers received a badge swimming between 25m and 3km. Some of our youngest swimmers surprised us swimming over 500m!! Congratulations to everyone who participated a fantastic effort!

The season concluded with all swimmers being acknowledge for their effort and improvements in the pool. We are extremely proud of all the swimmers who attended throughout the season and look forward to seeing you in the pool again next season.
